From NBC-Universal Media ‐ 2017 (LOS ANGELES) -- The America's Got Talent auditions continued on Tuesday night with more singers, dancers, magicians and acrobats. Tuesday's showcase included a dance troupe from the Ukraine who was sent straight to the live rounds via the Golden Buzzer. Here are some of Tuesday's highlights Greater Works choir brought the house down with the gospel classic song "This Little Light of Mine." Howie Mandel declared they "took this Jew to church," and Heidi Klum called them the best choir they've had during her time on the show. They received four enthusiastic four yeses and advanced to the next round.
